We are having a bicipital groove. Tendons of the teres major and the bicep long head, hang Plate of sweet meat, carried-on-top by nipple, summoning mouths. Redoubtable armour, Hopping bars solo, a body of reckoning among the bodies of men. It's a skeleto-muscular drag Ground control to major pec. This major is fan-shaped and thick. Stupendous when activated by cable-machines, the unbent out-stretched arms crossing streams at elbow to momentous flex. Moment in the mirror where hummock one and hummock two become cleavage.
 This is the apparition that the gym-worrying male wants most to see: Mother-Mary-Magdalen
 What do you accomplish, major pec, when you are not preening in the mirror?
 I am the business. What don't I do? You cannot slap a back, shake
